

Access to McKinley T34 Lockboxes and Keys

Lock boxes for the McKinley T34 syringe pump will be held for access at the locations detailed in table 1 below.

Use of a lock box should follow an assessment of the patients care needs and risk factors. Assessment will have indicated that additional security is required, beyond routine use of the keypad lock mechanism of the pump and the plastic box, which shuts securely and, whilst having the same appearance as a lockbox, can be opened with a coin.

Consideration must be given as to where keys will be held securely and to ensure ready access. Keys are generic not specific to one box.

Lockboxes and keys should be returned to lending area after use.
