Who are we?

We are a community team of paediatric dietitians based with the Lothian Dietetic Service.

What do we do?

We support all children, young people (0-18 years) and their families who receive tube feeding at home. We will visit a child at home within five working days of discharge from hospital with a feeding tube.

Who we work with?

We work closely with families and other health and social care staff to provide a patient centred and effective dietetic service.

This includes working closely with paediatric consultants, nurses (specialist nurses, children's community nurses), speech and language therapists and health visitors.

How often will I be reviewed?

We provide regular nutritional assessments depending on your individual needs.

We can take measurements at home including weight and height. We will always make you aware of when we will next have contact with you. If you have any concerns in the meantime, we are available to discuss it over the phone.

Contact the Team: Our number is 0131 312 1045

Our working hours are 08:30am to 04:30pm Monday to Friday. If no one is available to speak to you when you call, please leave a message. We will return your call as soon as possible. We aim to return calls within 24 hours.

What is the Homeward Service?

Children and young people who receive home tube feeding will receive feeds and supplies monthly through a company called Nutricia Homeward.

The dietitian will ask if you are happy for your child to receive supplies through the Homeward Service.

Who is the Homeward Nurse?

This is a specialist nurse who can help provide you with advice on issues with tube care, tube site care and also provide training to give feed via your tube (see contact details below).
