

Introduction to Eating and Drinking Signalong Video

Information for parents and carers

Signalong is a key word signing system which is designed to be used to support individuals with communication difficulties. It is best to introduce signs that are relevant for the person you are supporting.

The NHS Lothian Speech and Language Therapy service have created some videos to support the use of Signalong with child or young person.

The video below covers vocabulary that is useful to use with child or young person when they are eating and drinking.
