

Using Signalong for Core Words

Information for parents and carers

Signalong is a key word signing system which supports spoken language. It is based on British Sign Language but differs in many ways. It supports individuals with communication difficulties.

Core words are words that we use most frequently in our everyday conversations (e.g., more, finished, yes, no, like and help). They can be used in different ways so can be really useful words to teach children and young people.

To learn to sign core word vocabulary that you can use lots of times throughout your day, please watch our informative video which you can access through the link or QR code below:
